

---

Your applications can access TPU nodes from containers, instances, or services on Google Cloud. The application requires a connection to your TPU node through your VPC network (/vpc/docs/using-vpc).

The following Google Cloud services are capable of accessing TPU nodes. Select the service with characteristics that best meet your requirements.

